Their Field of Operations at Biggarsburg--Strong Outposts Near Wessel's Neck--Victoria Sends Sympathy for Joubert's Widow

By Associated Press to the Journal. LONDON, March 30.—The reports that Roberts will remain at Bloemfontein another month are probably intended for Boer consumption and the recent movement of troops and other indications point to preparations being well advanced for a forward movement. Boer telegrams announcing the bombardment of Mafeking on Monday or Tuesday do not claim any success, and hopes are entertained that it may have been a final effort to reduce the place before raising the siege.

In small affairs the Boers are daringly aggressive in all parts of the field of war. The Johannesburg mounted police, estimated by the Boers to be their best mounted commando, is raiding the country near Bloemfontein, harassing the farmers who have given up their arms to the British and carrying off cattle.

There is a report from Natal that a Russian soldier of fortune, Colonel Ganotski, with 100 horsemen, is operating close to the British outposts on the western border.

ALASKAN MAIL COMES QUICKLY

By Associated Press to the Journal. WASHINGTON, March 30.—A report has been received at the postoffice department from St. Michael, Alaska, under date of December 30. This is regarded as indicating a great improvement in the service, as heretofore it was impossible to get mail from that point after the first of November.

QUEEN VICTORIA OFFERS SYMPATHY

LONDON, March 30.—Queen Victoria has cabled Lord Roberts asking him to convey to the widow of General Joubert her sympathy at the loss of her husband.

ANOTHER BOER VICTORY.

Pretoria, March 30.—A dispatch from Fourteen Streams, north of Warrenton, says the Boers March 28, opened a bombardment of the British camp there. The British replied feebly and evacuated the place during the night.

BOERS ATTACK NEAR GLEN CAMP

LONDON, March 30.—The Boers are concentrating in force about 15 miles north of Bloemfontein, in the rear of Glen, and Lord Roberts is sending forward troops to engage them. The Seventh Infantry division and part of General French's cavalry have been sent up to join the Fourteenth Brigade, and the two cavalry regiments that are holding Glen and its environs. It does not

A Lively Runaway.

Wm. Anderson, of Sidney, drove into town with a very pretty little Altamont mare. At the Trade street crossing she became frightened at the switching engine. Attempting to turn she reared up and threw herself, at the same time stripping the bridle off with one foot. Mr. Anderson jumped out and the mare gained her feet and started up Commercial street at a gallop that left no doubt that her whole heart was in the effort to arrive somewhere else in the shortest possible time. The buggy collided with an electric light pole by Harritt & Lawrence's store but remained intact. The team of Julius Rick was standing in front of Stone's drug store and the runaway collided heavily with Mr. Rick's back. The shock threw the little mare off her feet and she fell and rolled completely over, landing north of the State street crossing, where she was secured. The buggy was badly broken up, but the mare showed no signs of injury. Mr.

In getting home and while the bones were being set.

Eli DeLong, while at work at the electric power-house yesterday, had the misfortune to catch the second finger of his left hand in some machinery badly crushing it.

While Sherman Heckman was unloading some heavy machinery yesterday, the windlass he was using in raising the machinery accidentally gave away, striking Mr. Heckman over the right eye, cutting an ugly wound. Several stitches were taken to sew up the wound. Sherman is able to be out today.

Laid to Rest.

The remains of the late Jacob G. Hoffman were laid to rest in the City View cemetery yesterday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ketchum, of the First Presbyterian church.

The deceased was born in Ohio, Feb. 22, 1855, and died of a gripe and brain fever at the age 45 years, 1 month and 6 days after a very short illness.

On Jan. 4, 1877, he was married to Miss Keish M. Hencel, of Orville, Ohio, where they resided for two years, coming to Oregon in 1879 and settling in the Waldo Hills. They then moved to the Red Hills south of Salem where he resided until death came and relieved him of his troubles in this world. He

IS A HELL ON EARTH

Governor Steunenburg's Opinion of the Coeur d'Alene Region.

By Associated Press to the Journal. WASHINGTON, March 30.—At the Coeur d'Alene investigation Governor Steunenburg related various talks with General Merriam. The governor said he requested Merriam to order troops to Shoshone county. There was no agreement with Merriam that the labor organization were to be broken up, nor any talk of suppressing them. The governor was examined as to calls on Secretary Root, and said the latter intended to withdraw the troops from guard duty Oct. 29th. The governor called to protest against this, and the withdrawal was finally postponed.

When Sulzer referred to the "reign of terror you inaugurated," the Governor answered emphatically, "I did not inaugurate the reign of terror; it has existed for the last seven years." He said further to Mr. Lantz "I know that county has been a hell on earth for the last ten years."

LIVERPOOL, March 30.—Archibald Forbes, the war correspondent, died in this city last night.

Rick's leg was uninjured. In passing the Salem Dye Works, next door to the Journal office, the runaway kicked up a stone which crashed through the plate glass door.

Horse Injured. A young mare belonging to John Canos was tied out to grass on Ferry street near the freight depot today when the switch engine backed in. She was tethered by the foot to an old stump and taking fright she ran away with the stump. She fell near the Club stables and a sharp rock inflicted injuries on her knee which will probably ruin her.

Business Changes Hands. Charles Measor formerly proprietor of the bowling alley has purchased the T. J. Lonsmont second hand store in the opera house block and is removing the goods to State street to the room formerly occupied by Geo. F. Smith.

Yesterday's Accidents. George Barr, the 14-year-old son of George Barr, of Yow Park, met with a painful accident yesterday, while playing at the family home. In company with several boys he was enjoying the sport of swinging when the rope broke, throwing young Barr to the ground in such a manner as to break both bones of his left fore arm above the wrist. Young Barr displayed great nerve and courage

Senator Proctor of Vermont Pleads for Free Trade With Our Island Possessions.

PROCTOR ON PUERTO RICO.

By Associated Press to the Journal. WASHINGTON, March 30.—Consideration of the Puerto Rican bill was resumed at conclusion of the routine business, Proctor addressing the senate. He spoke as an unalterable advocate of the policy of free trade between the island and the United States and was accorded close attention.

During the debate on the Puerto Rican bill, Pettus launched into one of the most amusing speeches heard in the Senate for years. He adverted to "the wonderful declamation we had yesterday from the orator of the senate (Beveridge). When you get a genuine orator he's absolutely absorbed from all rules of logic and common sense. You'll have to have a caucus on him." (laughter). Pettus said when the Master selected a leader for the Israelites he did not choose an orator. He even chose a stuttering man. His name was Moses, but not orator.
